UNCLASSIFIED//~~FOUO~~

Brian Laundrie may have gone to the Jackson Dam to dump something over the side of the bridge on August 29th. This is my conclusion given the events of that day

August 27th, 2021 – Argument between Gabby and Brian Laundrie and possibly the staff at the Merry Piglets Mexican Cafe' restaurant in Jackson Wyoming. It appears according to witnesses that Gabby came back into the restaurant and apologized to the staff.

A manager of a Wyoming restaurant said she saw a "commotion" between Gabby Petito and Brian Laundrie back in August, just days before Petito's last known appearance.

On Aug. 27, the of the Merry Piglets Tex-Mex restaurant in Jackson, Wyoming, said she saw "an incident" at the restaurant with the couple. She did not describe what happened during the incident, according to CNN. She said there is no video footage of the incident, either.

b7c

"Yes, we can confirm Gabby and Brian were in Merry Piglets ... We have already notified the FBI and they are aware. We are letting them do their jobs and we are respecting Gabby's family and have nothing further to comment," the restaurant said in an Instagram post.

August 27th, 2021

Gabby's van was spotted on a dirt road in the Spread Creek Dispersed Campgrounds in a video taken by the [REDACTED] as they were traveling down this gravel road on August 27th between 6:00 and 6:30 pm.

b6
b7C

YouTube bloggers say they spotted Gabby Petito's converted white van near Wyoming's Grand Teton National Park two days after the missing woman's family say they last heard from her.

"We came across a white van that had Florida plates," said blogger [REDACTED] in a video posted to YouTube, "A small white van. We were going to stop and say hi because we're from Florida too, but the van was completely dark. There was nobody there, so we decided to continue on our way."

b6
b7C

b6
b7C

August 29th, 2021 – [REDACTED] offered to give Brian Laundrie a ride from Colter Bay to Jackson. The time was 5:44 pm when Laundrie got into their vehicle at Colter Bay.

b6
b7C

PLEASE READ MY WHOLE NARRATIVE IN ORDER TO UNDERSTAND MY POINT OF VIEW

"He approached us asking for a ride because he needed to go to Jackson and we were going to Jackson that night. So I said, you know, 'Hop in,' and he hopped in the back of my Jeep." [REDACTED] said. "He offered to pay us like $200 to give him a ride like 10 miles. So, that was kind of weird."

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] then recounted the alleged story Laundrie told them.

"He said he had been camping for multiple days without his fiancé," [REDACTED] recalled. "And that she was working on their social media page back at their van."

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] said when she mentioned to Laundrie that they were driving to Jackson Hole, Laundrie "freaked out" and asked them to pull over and he exited the Jeep.

[REDACTED] said they let him out near Jackson Dam in Grand Teton National Park.

b6
b7C

"It was a weird situation," [REDACTED] said. "When we picked him up he was wearing a backpack, he had a long sleeve, pants, hiking boots, and he had like, scruff. Um, but, he didn't look dirty. For someone who was camping for multiple days, like, he didn't look dirty, he didn't smell dirty. So that part was kind of weird."

[REDACTED] said she shared the story on TikTok in case it jogs anyone else's memory who may have encountered him.

In a second video, [REDACTED] said Laundrie allegedly told her that he and Penro were camping along Snake River on an unregulated campground. "Basically out in the middle of nowhere."

b6
b7C

Laundrie allegedly told them he had been "hiking for days along Snake River."

[REDACTED] then recalled how unprepared Laundrie looked for someone who had been hiking and camping outside for days.

b6
b7C

"Looking at his backpack, it wasn't full," [REDACTED] said. "He said all he had was a tarp to sleep on. Which, you think if you're going camping for days on end, you'd want food and a tent, and he had none of that."

b6
b7C

In a third video, [REDACTED] showed a map of their alleged journey with Laundrie and pointed out where they dropped him off at a turn-out road next to Jackson Dam.

"He said he was going to walk across the street to the parking lot, which was full of people, to continue hitchhiking," [REDACTED] said.

[] described Laundrie's demeanor as "very nice, very polite" and calm.

b6
b7C

When [] claimed to have brought up the couple's own plans to go to Jackson Hole, she said Laundrie allegedly "freaked out" and insisted he get out of the car. [] said she pulled over at the Jackson Dam, not far from Colter Bay, at 6:09 pm.

b6

 [REDACTED] shows on the above map where she picked up Laundry in Colter Bay at 5:44 pm on the 29th of August. She stated that Laundry didn't smell and that he did not look dirty for someone who says he had been hiking the Snake River for multiple days. In my opinion Laundry either hitchhiked or walked to Colter Bay for the purpose of possibly taking a shower and get cleaned up just before [REDACTED] offered him a ride to Jackson. If Laundry did take a shower and got cleaned up what did he do with his dirty clothes? She says his backpack was virtually empty. The question is what was really in that visibly virtually empty backpack, "possibly a weapon?".

[REDACTED] states that when she said Jackson Hole Laundry freaked out and asked them to pull over and drop him off. They dropped him off just south of the Jackson Dam Bridge at 6:09 pm as shown by [REDACTED] on the next screen capture. In my opinion I think Laundry freaked out when he saw the bridge and realized his next move which was to dump something. He could have also freaked out when [REDACTED] referenced the town of Jackson Hole knowing that he really needed to stay away from there since the people of that small town may recognize him because of the scene he created at that Mexican Restaurant. Maybe in fact, he may have freaked out when [REDACTED] referred to Jackson as Jackson Hole and the word Hole did not sit well with him. It's hard to say what the problem was there. There is no doubt, he had issues

A woman by the name of [REDACTED] claims to have picked up Brian Laundrie just past the Jackson Dam Bridge on the same day "August 29th" between 6:15 and 6:20 which would have been approximately 6 to 11 minutes after [REDACTED] dropped him off at the bridge. He was hitchhiking and apparently heading north "back where he came from" which seems to me to be very suspicious.

b6

EXCLUSIVE: A second woman has come forward to say she gave a hitchhiking Brian Laundrie a ride in Grand Teton National Park in Wyoming on Aug. 29, two days after Gabby Petito was last seen.

[REDACTED] said she spontaneously decided to visit a Roman Catholic Church called Chapel of the Sacred Heart in Grand Teton National Park that Sunday for its 5 p.m. MT service. The church is about 1.2 miles from Jackson Lake Dam, where [REDACTED] said she dropped Laundrie off after he "freaked out" and asked to get out of the couple's Jeep.

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] said she picked him up around 6:15 or 6:20 past the dam near Pacific Creek Landing. He was walking backward and holding out his thumb, like so many do in that area of the national park, she told Fox News.

b6
b7C

"I picked him up..." [REDACTED] said. "... Something just said, 'Hey, ask him where he's going.'"

b6
b7C

Laundrie, who sat in the passenger seat of [REDACTED] asked if she was going to Jackson. When she told him no because she lives in the opposite direction, he asked her if she'd drop him off at the Spread Creek dispersed camping area, which she agreed to, [REDACTED] said.

b6
b7C

Spread Creek is about a 20-minute drive from the dam.

"Everything's legitimate. Everything's corroborated. I already talked to the FBI," [REDACTED] said, adding that she didn't realize she had given a ride to Laundrie until

b6
b7C

PLEASE READ MY WHOLE NARRATIVE IN ORDER TO UNDERSTAND MY POINT OF VIEW

after she saw [redacted] TikTok video and emphasized the important role social media has played in helping to solve this case.

b6
b7C

[redacted] similarly explained in her video that she realized it was the 23-year-old person of interest in Penro's missing person case after watching videos on TikTok.

b6
b7C

[redacted] described having the same small talk with Landrie that [redacted] reported in her TikTok. He told her that he spent time hiking near Snake River and that he had a fiancée. He told her he had seen elk and moose but no bison, and when he asked her if she needed any gas money, she said no.

b6
b7C

On the ride to Spread Creek, [redacted] said, she took a sharp right turn, causing a Bible on her dashboard to fall onto Landrie's lap. He picked up the book and put it back on the dashboard.

b6
b7C

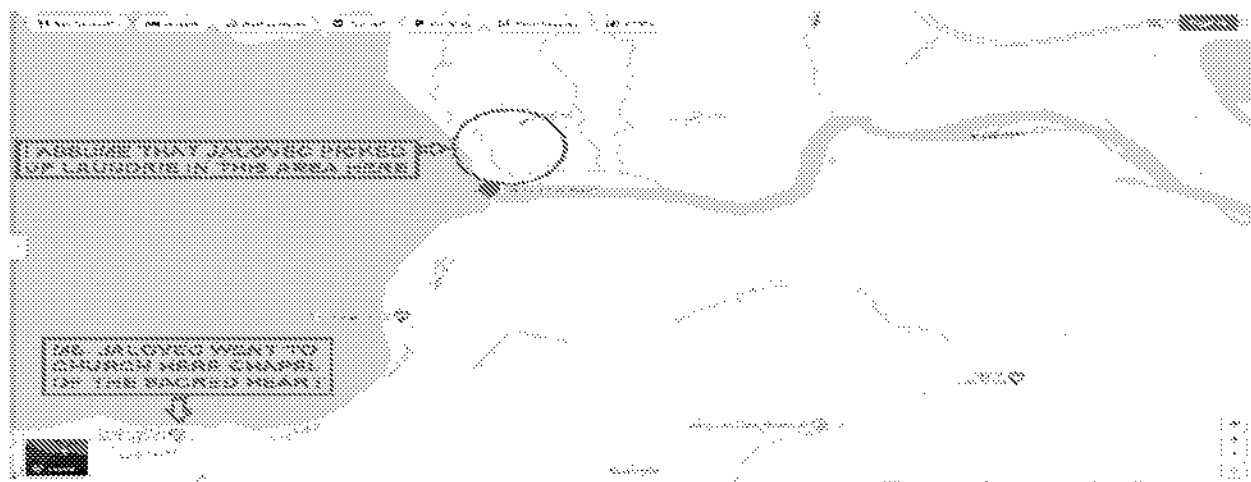

The 23-year-old asked [redacted] to drop him off at the gate of the remote campground, which has a single dirt road that extends miles to various camping sites in the area; at 6:30 p.m. MT in August, there would have still been some daylight to see into the camping area. [redacted] responded saying she could drive him inside, which is when he tried to "get out of the moving car," she said.

b6
b7C

"I can't explain why I was there," [redacted] said of her decision to go to the church in Grand Teton that day and pick up a hitchhiker. "It was something I don't typically do. I don't pick up hitchhikers in Florida. I've gotten so much s--- from family and friends for picking up a hitchhiker."

b6

[redacted] said she joked with Landrie about wanting to impress his fiancée by hiking into the campground rather than hitching a ride, but he responded only by insisting that he be let out of the vehicle.

During the ride with [REDACTED] Laundrie requested she drop him off at the gate of the remote campground and when she offered to drive him inside, that's when Laundrie tried to get out of the moving car. [REDACTED] said "she joked with Laundrie about wanting to impress his fiancée by hiking into the campground rather than hitching a ride, but he responded only by insisting that he be let out of the vehicle". Laundrie surely did not want [REDACTED] to know anything about him, the type and color of the vehicle he was driving, where it was parked on that road and the fact that his fiancée was more than likely not at the van. He insisted that he be let out of the vehicle ***

It is very unusual for someone to ask for a ride to Jackson; demand to be dropped off just south of the Jackson Dam and then turn around and hitchhike back north to where he came from within 6 to 11 minutes after he arrives, very strange

CRITICAL  This is where the timeline takes us. [REDACTED] drops Laundrie off just south of the dam at 6:09 pm and [REDACTED] picks Laundrie up just past the dam going north between 6:15 and 6:20. That means that Laundrie was on the ground there at Jackson Dam approximately 6 to 11 minutes which leads me to believe that Laundrie may have taken that time to scope out and nonchalantly remove some evidence; "possibly a weapon of some sort" from his backpack and dump it over the edge of the bridge if that's what he was up to. Now, let me explain my viewpoint regarding which side of the bridge he may have done this. If he would have dropped something over the Jackson Lake "water inlet side" of the bridge it would have landed directly into the water. If he would have dropped something over the Snake River "water exit side" of the bridge it would have bounced off the cement system below on that side. So, if he would have dropped something off the bridge he probably would have done it on the Jackson lake side of the bridge. I will explain how I came to this conclusion in the next two photos

NOTE:  If he was indeed up to dumping something he could have also walked down along the north or south side of the Snake River a little ways and got rid of it that way. I would say that given the fact that he only had 6 to 11 minutes between rides and if his purpose for going there was to dump something, I am sure that he would have done it very close to the Jackson Dam area, if not off the bridge. See photo below of the north and south banks of the Snake River. If a weapon was used in the homicide of Gabby Petito then, it would be reasonable to consider a search of the water on both sides of Jackson Dam for that weapon

Given all the information about “Brian Laundrie” and his parents and the overall circumstances surrounding this case it leaves me virtually no doubt that he is responsible for the death of Gabby Petito. Since Gabby’s death was a homicide I am speculating that there may have been a weapon involved. I hope this information is helpful in your search for truth and justice for sweet little “Gabby”.

I do believe that the information relayed to authorities by [REDACTED] [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] is an honest assessment of their encounters with Brian Laundrie that fateful day; August 29th, 2021...

b7c

I also believe this may have been the day Gabby’s precious life was taken from her family at the hands of her killer.

God Bless Gabby, her Mother, Father and her Family and God Bless all the Law Enforcement Officers who have been working tirelessly in the search for the one responsible for this egregious act.

Gabby Petito and Brian Laundrie had an 'incident' in a Wyoming restaurant, manager says

Gabby Petito and Brian Laundrie were spotted at a Wyoming restaurant during their cross-country road trip

By Herb Scribner | @HerbScribner | Sep 23, 2021, 10:00am MDT

This police camera video provided by The Moab Police Department shows Gabrielle "Gabby" Petito talking to a police officer after police pulled over the van she was traveling in with her boyfriend, Brian Laundrie, near the entrance to Arches National Park on Aug. 12, 2021. | Moab Police Department via Associated Press.

A manager of a Wyoming restaurant said she saw a “commotion” between Gabby Petito and Brian Laundrie back in August, just days before Petito’s last known appearance.

On Aug. 27, the manager of the Merry Piglets Tex-Mex restaurant in Jackson, Wyoming, said she saw “an incident” at the restaurant with the couple. She did not describe what happened during the incident, according to CNN. She said there is no video footage of the incident, either.

“Yes, we can confirm Gabby and Brian were in Merry Piglets ... We have already notified the FBI and they are aware. We are letting them do their jobs and we are respecting Gabby’s family and have nothing further to comment,” the restaurant said in an Instagram post.

But two residents, Nina Angelo and her boyfriend, Matt England, said they saw a commotion between Petito and Laundrie at the same restaurant, per CNN.

So what happened at the Merry Piglets Tex-Mex restaurant? Angelo told Fox News that Laundrie argued with a waitress at the restaurant. She said Laundrie had “aggressive” body language and might have been arguing about the bill or money. Laundrie left and returned to the restaurant four times, she said.

Hours later, the couple said they spotted Petito and Laundrie’s van at a campsite on the north side of the town.

Petito and Laundrie went on a cross-country road trip earlier this summer, visiting locations across the West, including Utah. The couple reportedly had an incident in Moab, Utah, which caught the attention of police, too.

On Sept. 1, Laundrie returned home to North Port, Florida, without Petito. Ten days later, Petito was reported missing. Just days later on Sept. 17, Laundrie was reported missing by his family, who said he left them days before. His whereabouts are still unknown.

But the search for Petito took a dark turn Sunday when the FBI said it had found human remains outside a national park in Wyoming that were consistent with the description of Petito. On Sunday, Teton County Coroner Dr. Brent Blue confirmed that the remains were Petito and she had died by homicide.

Police are still searching for Laundrie at the Carlton Reserve, a 25,000-acre park, in Sarasota County, Florida.
